

About Evite

Evite is the world's leading and most innovative online invitation company in the world. The company makes it effortless and fun to celebrate together by offering thousands of professionally-designed, on-trend digital invitations and greeting cards. It helps hosts to craft and send invitations via email, text, or shareable link using our desktop site, mobile website, or app.

Features like RSVP tracking, event reminders, guest messaging, and contact management make party planning even easier for hosts and guests. Through Evite Donations™ (powered by Pledge), users can invite guests to support a favorite cause or crowdfunding project without leaving their invitation. To date, Evite users have raised over $35 million total for various causes using Evite Donations™.

In addition to creating in-house-designed invitation and greeting card templates, Evite is committed to adding the most sought-after key licensed characters and brands to its offerings. Evite collaborated with Disney to launch a collection of invitations based on the most popular characters from Disney, Marvel, Pixar and Star Wars. Evite also recently launched Sesame Street invitations and is preparing to release several more collaborations this year.

Launched in 1998, the company has sent nearly three billion invitations to date and drives billions of dollars in party-related purchases. Evite is privately owned and headquartered in Los Angeles. Visit www.evite.com or download the app to start planning and get inspired.
